

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

EINSTEIN by Torben Kuhlmann bends time and imagination

EINSTEIN—the fourth book in Kuhlmann's Mouse Adventure series, which has sold over one million copies worldwide—is NorthSouth Books' biggest release in over a decade. On sale September 7.

New York, June 24, 2021— What if Albert Einstein's famous theories first came into being through an encounter with a little mouse?

NorthSouth is excited to announce a book that will send a time-traveling mouse to the patent office of a certain Albert Einstein. Torben Kuhlmann's beautiful illustrations will send you back in time as well.

Though the book is fiction, it includes extensive information on Albert Einstein and the theory of relativity in the backmatter.

"Another milestone in human-mouse collaboration, virtuosic of visuals and tongue in cheek of tone."—Starred, Kirkus Reviews

The book launch will include a virtual author event with the Reader Meets Writer series involving 120 bookstores that are members of the Southern Independent Booksellers Association and the New Atlantic Independent Bookseller Association.

In addition, the book has its own dedicated website featuring a beautiful book trailer, our teacher's guide (aimed at the 2nd to 5th grade level) as well as a dossier that includes an interview with Torben Kuhlmann and showcases some beautiful spreads from the book.

Please let us know if you would like to receive a review copy.
